CPI(ML) Demands Action against Bhojpur SP

A CPI(ML) delegation comprising Politburo member Com. Ram Naresh Ram, State Party Secretary Com. Ramjatan Sharma, CC member Com. K.D. Yadav and State Committee member Com. Santosh Sahar met Chief Minister Rabri Devi on 2 April. The delegation demanded immediate action against Rajkumar Mallik, SP of Bhojpur who maintains close links with the banned Ranvir Sena. It was in relation to the killing of three ML supporters in Sonbarsa village of Bhojpur district by Ranvir Sena on 27 March. The SP had appointed a Ranvir Sena supporter Sub-inspector Vishwanath Tiwari as incharge of Narhi camp, where the plan of Sonbarsa massacre was chalked out. The FIR lodged by the dependents of the deceased persons had the names of Ranvir Sena chieftains on it, but the SP got it replaced by a fake FIR. The CM admitted that serious irregularities had been there in the case and SP's role was dubious. She ordered to lodge an FIR in this regard and assured to take action against the SP immediately. She also promised to pay compensation to the families of the deceased and to ensure employment to one person from each family. A march was taken out on 2 April in Patna on the demand of removal of SP of Bhojpur and institution of a case under Sec.302 against him.

Earlier when Com. Ram Naresh Ram went to meet the family of the deceased in Sonbarsa, Laloo Yadav, minister Shivanand Tiwari and the DGP also reached there. Thousands of villagers gheraoed Laloo Yadav and the DGP demanding institution of murder case against the SP. In a statement before the DGP they named 17 Ranvir Sena men identified to be in the gang that perpetrated Sonbarsa killing.

Clinton Clears The Way for FBI and ...

Clinton came and saw, but he did not have to conquer. The slavish Indian state and media establishment had in fact prostrated itself like the proverbial red carpet for Mr. Clinton to tread on. On the other hand, there is this other India which belongs to and comprises its toiling millions and all its self-respecting citizens and genuine patriots, which no Clinton can ever conquer. Braving police lathis and water canons and the contemptuous arrogance of the US securitymen and their Indian counterpart, this other India spoke out loudly against all that it considered unbecoming of and inimical and insulting to India's legacy and interests.

Clinton and his entourage have left. But more guests will keep coming periodically to monitor the fate of Clinton's mission. The first such visitor will be Mr. Free, chief of US investigation agency FBI. Indian rulers have not bothered to inform Indian citizens or even Indian Parliament as to why FBI is being allowed to set up shop in Delhi. Obviously, FBI is not coming here to measure the growth of the sapling planted by Clinton at Gandhi's Rajghat. It will be FBI today and CIA tomorrow. Probably to keep an eye on ISI! The country has already got some taste of US security service. Chief Minister and Governor of Rajasthan and several Indian dignitaries were subjected to humiliating experiences and one senior correspondent of India Today was harassed and grilled because he was recorded by Clinton's securitymen in Agra to have uttered Osama Bin Laden's name! More should now perhaps be expected from the proposed nexus between FBI and CBI!

Souvenirs of Clinton Yatra gifts are however not limited to the security front. Even as the nation was being held hostage to the government-sponsored euphoria and frenzy of Clinton's visit, Union Petroleum Minister Ram Naik announced drastic hikes in the prices of Kerosene and LPG. It is a sign of the changing times that hikes in prices are referred to as mere cuts in subsidies! And now Murasoli Maran has freed more than 700 import items from any kind of quantitative restriction. Yashwant Sinha's budget had already announced liberal reductions in Customs Duty.

If anybody was foolish enough to expect either large dollops of American technology, investment or liberalisation of American economy for Indian exports or labour or even promise of a permanent berth for India in an enlarged UN Security Council, Clinton had little time for such naive feelings of his Indian fans. He of course got a loud applause from BJP and Congress MPs for condescendingly granting India the right to determine its own future. Clinton was literally being mobbed like some pop cultural icon as MPs vied among themselves to get a lifetime opportunity to shake hands with Clinton. An RK Laxman cartoon said it all: an overwhelmed Clinton-charmed MP refusing to wash his hands to preserve that glorious touch!

Obviously, genuine patriots will have to wage a vigorous battle not only against the Clintons but also all their Indian fans to preserve India's national dignity and independence.

Nationwide Protest Against Clinton's Visit

In West Bengal, Party adopted a week-long programme beginning on 15 March to oppose Clinton's visit to India. In a widespread mass resistance that followed, people rescued him from the police station. In a retaliation on 24 March, police resorted to indiscriminate firing in which a party activist Com. Amrika Baitha was killed. Party observed Mairwa bandh on 25 March to protest the police high-handedness.

Satish Pandey gang killed two party activists Com. Ganesh Ram and Jaiprakash in Babhnauli village in Darauli block on 24 March. People retaliated and caught four goons of Satish Pandey gang and punished them to death.

Gadar Party Foundation Day Celebrated

The Jalandhar-based Deshbhagat Yadgar Committee celebrated the 88th foundation anniversary of the Ghadar Party on April 2 with an impressive meeting of Left ranks addressed by senior Left leaders from different parties. Perhaps for the first time, this meeting brought together the general secretaries of CPI, CPI(M) and CPI(ML) and leaders of several other communist formations on a common platform. Inaugurating the meeting, Baba Bhagat Singh Bilga, the nonagenarian president of the committee and a comrade of Bhagat Singh, made a passionate plea to all supporters of the Red Flag to close ranks and defend Bhagat Singh's legacy in the face of the mounting saffron offensive. In his address, Comrade Dipankar dwelt on the challenges facing today's patriots. Referring to the glorious legacy of Indian freedom movement, Com. Dipankar said, "The colour of patriotism in India, if not always red, has never been saffron in India. Today, pseudo-patriots, who are unabashed worshippers of US imperialism and who take pride in their rabid communal and rightwing agenda, have declared a war on all genuine patriots." He called upon the Left to organise and lead a new patriotic resurgence in the country to save India from the imperialist plunderers and their domestic collaborators.

Protest Against Price Hike

LPP Demo against Clinton

Defying the ban, Labour Party of Pakistan organised a demonstration in front of American Consulate in Lahore on 22nd March against Clinton's visit to Pakistan. All religious groups had already welcomed Clinton's visit. Though no arrests were made at the demonstration, after a few hours, the police started raiding the different places to arrest LPP General Secretary Farooq Tariq and other leaders. Party headquarters and the office of its weekly Mazdoor Jeddoujhd were raided several times. Labour Party leaders remained underground for four days. Hina Jelani, General Secretary of Human Rights Commission of Pakistan, condemned the raids and declared to give full legal and other support to LPP. 145 messages of support arrived in from international Labour movement. Pakistani pro-democracy activists picketed in London before Pakistan High Commission on 23 March under the banner of "Aaj key Naam", with British MP Jermy Corbyn, demanding immediate return to democracy. In their different statements, the office bearers of Pakistan Workers Confederation, All Pakistan Trade Unions federation. Oil Tankers Transport Workers Union and Mutehida Labour Federation Pakistan urged the government not to harass protesters.

Working Class Spring Offensive

Under the programme "April 16" tens of thousands of workers will converge on Washington in the largest ever held protest march and demonstration against the IMF and World Bank. On 16 and 17 April, the heads of WTO, IMF and WB are joining with the heads of Central Banks and Finance Ministers in Washington in a semi-annual meeting. Demonstrations are being planned in several cities all over America. The workers coalition consisting of powerful unions has termed their protest as Seattle-II, inspired by the battle in Seattle in the last December.

In fact the protest had already started when the forty feet massive banner depicting two bloody Corporate hands squeezing the life out of global south with the caption "World Bank + IMF = Corporate Colonialism" was unfurled on March 30 at New Jersey. April 2-3 demonstration in front of White House and Capital Mall rally on April 9 will be the grand rehearsal for "April 16". A leader of the Workers coalition commented: "We share a common vision and believe that our communities and the communities all around the world are more qualified to determine our future. The global financial institutions are totally undemocratic, un-elected and unaccountable to the people."

Homage to Chandrashekhar

On 30 April, on the eve of Com. Chandrashekhar's martyrdom day, Jan Sanskriti Manch and AISA jointly organised "cultural pledge" at Mandi House in Delhi. Cultural teams Jagriti and Lok Swar and Sumanta Sengupta, Shubhendu and Jaya Srivastava and others recited revolutionary songs. Asmita, a theatrical group, staged a programme based on Brecht's songs and Delhi University JSM branch staged a drama. Noted poet Mangalsh Dabral, Ibbar Rabbi and Kuber Datt recited their poems. This gathering of students, cultural activists and intellectuals demanded a speedy CBI inquiry and punishment to the murderers, and expulsion of the main culprit Shahabuddin from Lok Sabha. JSM Delhi convenor Bhasha initiated the programme and Prakash Chaudhry conducted it.

In J.N.U., hundreds of students under AISA brought out a procession and held 'resistance meeting' on 31 March.

Observing martyrdom day of Com. Chandrashekhar, a Shaheedi Samagam (Gathering in the memory of martyrs) was organised by AISA on 31 March at ITI, Mansa in Punjab. Students pledged to fulfil Chandrashekhar's dreams and foil the government design to communalise and privatise education. The occasion was addressed by AISA leaders Ajaib Singh, Balvir Singh, Awatar Singh and others.

Dam Bandho, Kam Do Campaign

Party Central Committee meeting held in Delhi on 27-30 March decided to intensify "Dam bandho, Kam do" campaign to focus on the twin issues of price rise and unemployment, which will culminate in a general strike on 11 May. The campaign is already going on in Ghazipur, Balia, Chandauli, and other districts of Eastern UP, the whole of Bihar, Delhi, West Bengal, Tamil Nadu and other parts of the country.

The CC has called upon the entire Party to conduct a comprehensive and sustained "Strengthen the Party" campaign from April 22. The main points of the campaign are : (i) Consolidate the Party Committee System, (ii) Revitalise Mass Work, (iii) Streamline Party Propaganda, (iv) Systematise Basic Party Education, (v) Regularise Party Branches, and (vi) Develop the Capacity of Mass Resistance.

CPI(ML) Opposes New Exim Policy

CPI(ML) strongly opposed the provisions of new exim policy announced by Murasoli Maran on 31 March by which the government has lifted quantitative restrictions on import of 714 items and proclaimed to set up special economic zones free from any government control.
